U.S. ARMY RESERVE FAMILY PROGRAMS

Army Reserve Family Programs (ARFP) is a comprehensive blend of quality-of-life programs in support of Department of Defense activities. Family Programs is a Commander's force multiplier for mission readiness. Family programs staff serve as the primary coordinating resource, who provide a multitude of unit and community-based services that foster the growth, development, and readiness of Soldiers and Families assigned to the Command.

Additionally, Army Reserve Family Programs provides a single gateway to responsive Family Crisis Assistance. ARFP provides a unit and community-based solution that connects people to people. By pinpointing Families-in-need and local community resources, the Army Reserve can quickly connect the Soldier Family and resources thus providing installation-commensurate services in the geographic location of the crisis.

SOLDIER & FAMILY READINESS GROUP DEFINED

What are Soldier and Family Readiness Groups? (SFRG)

The Soldier and Family Readiness Group (SFRG) is a force multiplier by connecting Soldiers and Families with the command team and providing a network of mutual support. The well-being of today's force is paramount to the success of any unit mission; therefore, SFRGs are inextricably linked to Soldier readiness. The SFRG serves as one of the foundations for the readiness of the force.

Commanders are encouraged to establish an SFRG that incorporates unit personnel, their family members, volunteers, and single Soldiers into an integrated communication, information, and support network. This change to the SFRG represents a shift away from social activities and fundraising to establishing a high-functioning command information networks that communicates, informs, and connects commands to enable a network of mutual support.

(HQDA EXORD 233 -19 Army wide implementation of the Soldier and Family Readiness Group)

SFRG MEMBERS

SFRG PRIMARY GOALS & EXPECTATIONS

- ▶ Act as an extension of the unit command in providing official and accurate command information to Soldiers and their Families.
- ▶ Connect Soldiers and Families to the chain of command and provide support between the command and SFRG members.
- ▶ Connect SFRG members to available on and off post community members.

- ▶ Offer a network of mutual support.
- ▶ Provide outreach, unit readiness activities and Family educational programs.
- ▶ Promote a holistic health and fitness program.
- ▶ Build a cohesive team.

Note: The Unit Commander shall serve as the SFRG leader and not further delegate this responsibility, per FORSCOM OPOD 200820 paragraph 3.B.2*

ESTABLISHING

A UNIT SOLDIER AND FAMILY READINESS GROUP

STEP 1:

The Unit Commander

Commanders at all echelons will establish an SFRG Chain of Command, responsible for SFRG execution. The SFRG Chain of Command consists of Unit Commanders, Rear Detachment Commanders or equivalent, Command Family Readiness Representative and Funds Custodians.

Commanders are encouraged to establish a Soldier Family Readiness Program that incorporates units, personnel, their family, and single Soldiers into an integrated communication, information, and support network.

STEP 2:

Official Sanction of SFRG

Commander designates the unit's Command Family Readiness Representative (CFRR).
Commander authorizes and signs the CFRR Appointment Memo.

Commander authorizes and signs the SFRG Sanction Memorandum. This memorandum states the Commander is the SFRG Leader, identifies the CFRR and the informal Funds Custodian, if an informal funds account is authorized.

STEP 3:

Soldier and Family Readiness Plan

Commanders develop a vision and mission for the Unit Soldier and Family Readiness Plan

Commander establishes goals and initiatives for Family Readiness.

- ▶ Volunteer Agreement (DD Form 2793)
- ▶ Volunteer Service Record (DA Form 4162)
- ▶ Parental Permission (DA Form 5671)
- ▶ Signed Position Description

Units are encouraged to keep copies of all paperwork. Units may submit a copy to the Family Programs Office through the Family Readiness Support Assistant to ensure accuracy of completion.

Units are also encouraged to track Volunteer information and training.

STEP 6:

Volunteer Position Descriptions

Key positions should have a position description. Descriptions should be tailored to fit the work to be done in the unit.

Volunteer should sign a copy. Volunteer will keep a copy and unit will file the original.

ESTABLISHING

A UNIT SOLDIER AND FAMILY READINESS GROUP

STEP 7:

Standard Operating Procedure (SOP)

- ▶ Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) should outline how the Soldier Family Readiness Group should operate.
- ▶ SOP should include current alert roster, and communication procedure.
- ▶ If Commander authorizes an informal fund, SOP should set control measures, audits and fundraising approval procedures.
- ▶ SOP should include mission essential activities and functions such as events, fundraising activities and trainings.
- ▶ SOP may include additional information such as frequency of staff and committee meetings, and an outline of the unit communication network (including social media).
- ▶ It is suggested that the plan be coordinated with the unit training schedule.

STEP 8 :

Informal Funds

- ▶ The primary purpose of the Soldier and Family Readiness Group is not to collect, solicit donations or manage large sums of funds.
- ▶ Commander can authorize SFRG to maintain one informal fund for non-mission-essential activities.
- ▶ SFRG informal funds are held in trust by Army personnel acting in their official capacities or by designated volunteers.
- ▶ The unit commander should designate in writing a primary and alternate fund custodian.

Can be: Soldier or Volunteer.

Cannot be: Unit Commander, First Sergeant, CFRR or SFRG Leader. (Cannot be scheduled to deploy for more than 30 days within a 12-month period)

RESTRICTIONS OF INFORMAL FUNDS: INFORMAL FUNDS SHOULD NOT...

- ▶ Be deposited or mixed with appropriated funds; unit morale, welfare, and recreation funds; the unit's cup and flower funds; or any individual's personal funds.
- ▶ Be used to purchase items or services that should be paid for with appropriated funds.
- ▶ Be used to purchase traditional military gifts (farewell, promotion, etc), gifts unrelated to family readiness, donating to a charity or providing financial assistance to an SFRG member in need.
- ▶ SFRG informal funds will not exceed a cap of $10,000 at any given time in a calendar year from all sources. Brigade or equivalent commanders have the authority to grant an exception for an increase up to $25,000 for a period not to exceed three months. Brigade or equivalent commanders can renew this exception once every six months.

ESTABLISHING

A UNIT SOLDIER AND FAMILY READINESS GROUP

STEP 9:
